Warranty Policy

SMAI have supplied the fitness industry for over 30 years. Our customers need to frequently replace their products due to the high use and impact in a commercial gym. This has formed the basis for our Warranty Policy.

All products sold by SMAI have a manufacturing warranty that covers the structural integrity of the product, and so long as the equipment is fit for its intended purpose (this excludes clearance items). If your product turns out to be faulty or damaged, SMAI will repair, replace or refund the item; unless (but not limited to):

- The product has not been used for its original intended purpose
- Normal wear and tear
- Cosmetic damages
- Misuse
- Incorrect installation/assembly
- Improper storage
- Poor maintenance
- Outside the warranty period
- Lack of proof of purchase

Unless otherwise specified in this policy book, all products have a 3 month manufacturing warranty, starting from date of invoice.

Our goods come with guarantees that cannot be excluded under the Australian Consumer Law. You are entitled to a replacement or refund for a major failure and compensation for any other reasonably foreseeable loss or damage. You are also entitled to have the goods repaired or replaced if the goods fail to be of acceptable quality and the failure does not amount to a major failure.

Please be advised that it is the responsibility of the purchaser to ensure correct installation and maintenance of the products, and inform further users or clients of proper equipment usage and handling. We recommend that you conduct regular equipment audits to ensure that all your products are correctly maintained and replaced as required.

Our product range is constantly evolving and new items are always added in. If you cannot find the Warranty Policy for your item, it is assumed to be covered by our Standard Warranty Policy.

Warranty Claim Process

If you are experiencing a problem with your item, please ensure you have carefully read and understood the Warranty Policy before making a claim.

1. LODGE A CLAIM

Claims will only be accepted via our Warranty Form

2. CASE NUMBER

You should receive a Case Number via email, which you will need to refer to in all correspondence

3. ASSESSMENT

The information provided will be assessed by our senior management team and engineering team

4. TESTING

In some cases, we will need to test the validity of your claim under normal use conditions

5. OUTCOME

A final decision to repair, replace, refund or reject your claim will be made in accordance with our Warranty Policy

What information do I need to lodge a claim?

To speed up the claims process, you will need to supply the following information when making a claim:

1. Invoice Number
2. Invoice Date
3. Description of the item and the issue you are experiencing
4. Photos or videos showing the problem (please clearly show SMAI's logo on at least 1 of the images)
5. Contact Information

What is the expected time frame?

The expected time frame will vary dependent on the nature of the item claimed.

If the information provided clearly indicates a manufacturing fault, your claim will be processed promptly to minimize inconvenience to your business.

If further information is required, this will delay the processing time. As such, we request that you include as much relevant information as possible in your claim.

In the case that a manufacturing fault is not clear, further testing may be required, which will further delay the processing time. In this instance, our senior management team and engineering team will make a final decision of the outcome of your claim in accordance with our Warranty Policy and in addition to your rights under the Australian Consumer Law.

What if I wish to dispute the outcome?

All warranty claims require approval from our senior management team before a final decision is made. As such, if you wish to dispute the outcome of your claim, we advise you to seek independent advice.

ITEM NAME	BARBELLS

Type of Warranty	Manufacturing Fault
Warranty Period	Lifetime
Do Not	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Drop unevenly onto the ground, spotting arms, a power rack or box etc. Drop or hit the bar's end cap Drop bar on ground when empty Leave the bar stored with weights on the collars Use weight plates that aren't calibrated to the barbell's sleeve diameter (max. collar diameter of 50mm) Load the bar with a weight that exceeds the load rating
Exclusions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Normal wear and tear, cosmetic damages, surface scratches, rust (this is the responsibility of the purchaser to maintain the barbell) This warranty is conditional on proper maintenance, so long as the barbell's end caps are straight and intact. SMAI's barbells have undergone extensive testing to achieve their load ratings, and bending should not occur. As such, all barbell claims will undergo extensive assessment by our engineering team to determine the cause.
Maintenance	Basic cleaning of the bar to avoid rust: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cleaning the chalk out of the knurling removes the opportunity for moisture to build up in the gaps (chalk absorbs moisture and will draw moisture from the air, in turn causing rust to develop in the knurling) To rid the bar of chalk you need to use a hard-non-abrasive nylon bristle brush and ideally this should be done daily, however if you own 20-30 barbells, to clean these daily would be impossible, so in this instance cycle your maintenance weekly by cleaning half of your bars one week and the other half the next week to ensure the bars are regularly cleaned Another way to avoid rust developing is to spray the bar with WD-40: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> To apply correctly spray the WD-40 on a rag and make sure to cover the entire shaft, sleeves and collars of the bar Leave it for a few hours or overnight (whichever is more convenient) and then wipe off the excess with a dry cloth The environment and usage your barbell is exposed to will determine how regularly you need to apply WD-40 If the barbell is kept indoors and is only for home use, doing this once or twice a month would be more than sufficient If the barbell is in a more exposed, open-aired environment or used multiple times a day it is recommended to do so weekly or even twice a week. Some examples of other factors that can diminish the life of your bar are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Storage involving the bar being weight loaded (this will bend the bar over time as the barbells are not designed to hold weight for extended periods of time) Always ensure when re-racking or storing the bar that you do so onto non-abrasive surfaces such as nylon, rubber or plastic Unevenly re-racking your barbell abruptly can also cause it to bend Using weight plates that aren't calibrated to the barbell's sleeve diameter (especially when dropping onto the ground or loading and unloading plates the metal can wear the collar's metal) Loading the bar with a weight that exceeds the load rating

If this occurs, we will dispatch you the parts with simple instructions required to replace the screw. The need to repair the Battle rope grip ends is not considered a manufacturing fault as it can be easily rectified and will not affect the life or use of the rope.
Installation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Do not install or use battle ropes on an abrasive surface. Doing so will void your warranty due to misuse as that is not SMAI's intended purpose for the battle ropes.
Maintenance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The ends of each rope are sealed and covered in a plastic coating. In some cases, due to heavy use the plastic coating can become dislodged which can easily be rectified by reinserting the coating onto the rope and affixing the hose clamp provided onto the top of the plastic coating. Installation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> INSTALLATION VIDEO SMAI standard sized boxing rings are easy to install by following the SMAI installation video. Our rings have been exactly engineered so that the corner posts do not require any additional bracing, even under full rope tension. Custom sized rings that are below the standard height, will require the corner posts to be manufactured with additional bracing and the corner posts may also have to be Dyna-bolted into the floor to counteract the force on the corner posts from tensioning the ropes. In these circumstances, it is essential that all the support measures be in place and fully extended prior to tensioning the ropes to avoid warping the frame. If the purchaser does not follow the correct measures and installation procedure, SMAI will not be liable for any damages caused through negligence or incorrect installation.
Maintenance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Clean the frame, ropes, pads and spacers with a PH neutral disinfectant, and wipe dry (harsh chemicals may cause the synthetic fabrics to fade or degrade).
