RBN Barrier Net Install

Jeep Grand Cherokee

NOTE: Many newer models have B-pillar handles and even overhead on the ceiling that can be used for some of the top mounting locations. Check to see if you prefer to use these factory locations as the nets typically have enough adjustment to allow for this option. If your vehicle does not have handles in desired locations or you prefer to install mounting points for better fitment, please follow the below steps.

IMPORTANT: READ INSTRUCTIONS FULLY BEFORE STARTING

Raingler's Cargo Net systems are very popular on the TJ's that I have seen and since I no longer have my TJ and now a WJ, that extra space needs to be just as safe, since extra gear as well as my two dogs need to be restrained in the rear.

When you receive your Barrier Net, you instantly know, this is a no joke system. It is constructed with 800# military buckles, stainless steel rings and saltwater grade webbing which is perfect for those of us living on the Gulf Coast.

Installation of the Barrier Net is one of the easiest and fastest mods you can do for your rig. Our system will be mounted behind the rear seat utilizing the floor anchor system, side wall anchors and the top will be secured above with the footman loop mounts. When installing it, be sure to leave the buckles loose until final fitment is completed. The great thing about the Barrier Net, is that it can be easily taken down as it is installed when needing that extra storage space as well as the net system can be stored in minimal space as small as the glove box or arm rest console.

We tested out the system with cardboard boxes filled with books while driving on the beach over sand dunes the net worked like a charm. Typically, you would have all your gear secured with straps, but should something come loose or you forget to tie something down, you will be safe. Right now it is keeping my 33" Pit Bull Tire from tattooing the back of my head or passengers until the new Trail Ready Tire Carrier is installed.

Be sure your next mod is the Raingler Cargo Net Systems for your rig!
