

Water Element

The Element of water is associated with Venus and the Moon and rules our emotions, both conscious and subconscious, along with our dreams.

Water as an element heals, cleanses and purifies, revitalizes and offers emotional release. Typically, Water is represented in the West and by the season of Autumn.

Water personalities, those born under the Astrological signs of Pisces, Cancer and Scorpio, are generally very connected on a Spiritual level. Water types can often be more emotional and sensitive to other signs. They are also often very aware and possess high intuition, psychic and even mediumship abilities. Water personalities tend to live their lives based on feelings rather than using their head, they follow their hearts, often leading them to acting quite spontaneously. These personalities need to be near water and will find that spending time in watering holes or on the beach keeps them grounded and balanced.

Within Magick, Water is represented by the Chalice, Cauldron and often mirrors. It is ruled by Mondays, the Twilight hour and the Moon Cycles.

Water is often used in spells of love, forgiveness, clarity, healing and compassion as well as seeking visions or in meditation.
