"I love this diffuser! It is so different from any I have seen before. Not only is it stylish for any home setting but the design and light give it a real candle like feel. Most of the diffusers on the market have a colored light and plastic casings that make them look cheap and toy like. I will definitely be gifting these for the holidays! – EB"

"Not only is the diffuser great but so is the service! Before I even received the product the company sent me a handy guide letting me know how to use it and some great facts about essential oils. Since this is the first time I am using a diffuser, it was super helpful in deciding what oils I should get. - Scott"

You Are 6 Steps Away From Enjoying Your New Diffuser!

1. Remove the inner diffuser and glass from the decorative iron casing.
2. Remove the lid from the diffuser and fill the water reservoir to the red fill line with filtered water. Use 4-5 drops of your desired essential oil.
3. Replace the lid until it is fully secured.

4. When placing the diffuser back into the iron casing, align the power button with the bottom opening if using manually or face the sensor outward if using the remote. You will hear a click and feel the diffuser connect with the magnetic power panel in the center.
5. Replace the glass cover and plug in the unit to a power socket.
6. Press the power button on your remote or the bottom of the unit to begin use. You can then change the light and mist settings with the remote.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Do I need to use distilled water?

A: Yes, we recommend using distilled water to prevent mineral buildup. This will keep your diffuser working in peak condition.

Q: How do I know how much essential oils to use?

A: We recommend using 4-5 drops of essential oil to effectively fragrance your home. You can adjust the amount of oil to your liking.

Q: Does the diffuser need cleaned?

A: We recommend wiping out the reservoir after use to remove any remaining oils. This will keep your diffuser running properly. If you notice oil buildup, use the included cleaning brush with rubbing alcohol to remove the oily film.

Q: Why did my diffuser power off?

A: The diffuser has an auto shut-off feature when the water level is low and also if it becomes too water logged from high humidity condensation.

If you notice the diffuser isn't misting continuously, you have turned the cycle to intermittent. Press the mist button on the remote to return to a continuous mist cycle.

Q: Why is there water leaking from the diffuser?

A: Water will only leak from the diffuser if the lid isn't properly secured or the diffuser was tipped when placing it back into the casing. Avoid tipping the reservoir so water does not flow into the air outlet.

Q: The power won't turn on?

A: Ensure the power cord is properly connected and plugged into an outlet. If using the remote, ensure the power sensor on the reservoir is facing outward to receive the signal. If the unit still doesn't power on, open the remote to replace the battery or use the manual button on the bottom of the unit.

New to Essential Oils?

To provide you with the best experience possible we have included facts and features about essential oils. Keep reading to learn what essential oils you should purchase and how to choose the essential oils you should diffuse in your home.

Not all oils are the same!

Unfortunately, when it comes to essential oils, not all brands offer the same high quality you might expect. While the label may state “Certified Pure” or “Therapeutic Grade” these are often just marketing terms companies use to pull you in. The truth is the FDA does not regulate the grade of essential oils so many of them contain other oils such as less expensive nut and seed oils and even use synthetic scents.

At Royal Living, we recommend only using trusted essential oil companies, such as Young Living, doTerra and Mountain Rose. By only using truly pure essential oils, you will gain the most benefit for your health. As a plus, Young Living is also a U.S. based company and maintains a high standard of customer satisfaction.

To purchase Young Living essential oils, you can visit our website or click the link below to purchase direct from the manufacture. If purchasing direct, we recommend becoming a Young Living “member” so that your oils are discounted. Membership is free and you receive a discount off of the regular retail price.
