13 AAC 104.410. Resealing wine served with a meal for removal from licensed premises

For purposes of AS 04.16.120 (c), one opened bottle of wine served with a meal may be removed from licensed premises if

- (1) the original cork or a similar type of cork is reinserted by the licensee into the bottle so that the top of the cork is flush with the bottle opening and can only be removed by a corkscrew or other similar device;
- (2) the original or a similar screw-on cap is placed tightly on the bottle and sealed with tamper-evident tape; or
- (3) the resealed bottle is placed in a single-use bag that has a tamper-evident seal and that is manufactured expressly for the removal of partially consumed bottles of wine from licensed premises.
