

A Strong Love

To find love is to find a blessing. To find love that is strong enough to grow into a marriage, is no doubt, a miracle! We are here today to celebrate the strength of the love between you both, as you commit to love each other through all the peaks and valleys yet to come, and to be each other's co-captain on this road of life together.

Please face each other, join hands, and think about the strength of the love you have for each other, as you commit to these promises.

_____, do you take _____, to be your wife? In good times and in bad, in sickness and in health, regardless of monetary wealth or social status? Do you promise to love, support and encourage her to always be herself and to follow the dreams you will now build together?

And do you, _____, take _____ to be your husband? In good times and in bad, in sickness and in health, regardless of monetary wealth or social status? Do you promise to love, support and encourage him to always be himself and to follow the dreams you will now build together?

Will you be exchanging rings as your first marital gift?

Your wedding rings will serve as a constant reminder of the special strength of your love for each other, even when you are far apart. The unending circle of the rings will remind you of your unending love for each other. The ring's precious metals and stones will remind you how delicate and gentle you must be with your love.

_____, place your ring onto _____'s right ring finger and say to him...

Take this ring
As a constant reminder
Of my love for you
And devotion to Us.

_____, you may now place your ring onto _____'s right ring finger and say to her...

Take this ring
As a constant reminder
Of my love for you
And devotion to Us.

It is by this beautiful commitment of love and devotion, that the two of you shall live together forevermore, as husband and wife, and co-captains in life.

Congratulations! You may seal your love with a kiss!