

Scottish
Fair Trade
Forum

To whom it may concern:

Sabeena Ahmed of the The Little Fair Trade Shop

The Scottish Fair Trade Forum was established in January 2007 by a group of Fair Trade campaigners, Scotland-based non-governmental organisations and the Scottish Government, to promote the cause of Fair Trade in Scotland and, in particular, help secure Fair Trade Nation status for Scotland.

Our commitment to Fair Trade is drawn from Scotland's resolve to challenge global poverty and its recognition for the need for fairness in international trading to preserve the dignity and rights of producers overseas. As such, the Scottish Government has been an instrumental supporter of the Fair Trade Nation campaign and provides core funding to the Scottish Fair Trade Forum. The Forum is not affiliated with any political or religious group.

We are aware of the efforts of Sabeena Ahmed and the The Little Fair Trade Shop to promote Fair Trade in the United Arab Emirates. In particular, Sabeena has been in contact with us to seek advice on Fair Trade education projects and resources. The Forum undertakes a lot of activities in early years centres, primary and secondary schools, colleges and universities and we have been pleased to share advice with Sabeena. Fair Trade is truly a global network.

Yours faithfully,
