

7 Succulent-Infused Beauty Products to Keep You Hydrated All Summer Long

Forget the desert (and your cousin's chic Brooklyn apartment), succulents are popping up everywhere these days — including in your makeup bag. Hydrating ingredients most commonly found in the water storage plants, like prickly pear, aloe vera, and cactus flower, are actually making their way into skin-care (and hair-care) products, thanks to their ability to moisturize and soothe skin for hours at a time. This is due to their high levels of amino acids, such as glutamine, says cosmetic chemist Ginger King. Here, we've rounded up products made with the hydration-boosting ingredients to keep you far from parched — all summer long.

BY SARAH KINONEN @ SARAHKINONEN

© APRIL 26, 2017

Make Succulent Skin Gel

Chock full of soothing ingredients like aloe vera, chamomile, and calendula, this lightweight gel seeps into skin to coddle sensitive, sun-reddened, and just-plain-dry skin.

$25 (makebeauty.com)

Direct Link: <http://www.allure.com/gallery/cactus-infused-beauty-products>