

MAKEUP

13 Amazing Highlighters For Every Budget

Highlighting (also referred to as "strobing") is still having its time in the spotlight. It's a surefire route to a Kerry Washington-level glow, hides imperfections, and is a perfect foil to its counterpart, contouring. But not all luminizing products do the same thing; some lend subtle sheen, while others offer a more noticeable glimmer and even a chrome strobe in some cases. Either way, don't think you need to spend a queen's ransom for a lit complexion — there are many options for your budget, no matter where it is in the pay cycle.

BY STEPHANIE SALTZMAN @ STEPHSALTZMAN AND SOPHIE WIRT

© AUGUST 7, 2017

Make Face Gloss

Face gloss — it's gloss for your face. Kind of like if lipgloss decided to diversify its talents, the effect of which is the most natural dewy effect imaginable, since it's free of any sort of shimmer or pigment. Use a tiny dab for a barely there gleam, or slick it on for more intense shine. It makes even the dullest skin look instantly healthier and more radiant, whether used on its own or over makeup (disclaimer: Though it's fairly lightweight, we'd recommend skipping this one if you have an oily complexion).

$25 (Birchbox.com)

Direct link: <https://www.allure.com/gallery/best-highlighters>