

8 Products That Stop Pollution From Ruining Your Face

Liz Ritter , Executive Managing Editor | March 10, 2016

Pollution isn't just a pain and a pesky environmental problem, it's a serious—and sinister—factor in the skin care equation. In fact, a recent study published in the Journal of Investigative Dermatology showed that the formation of dark spots (also known as lentigenes or liver spots) were linked to levels of traffic-related air pollution and air pollution-associated gases. These powerful products are all geared toward fighting the damage they can do to your face, and offer up some other skin-loving benefits in the process.

MAKE Moonlight Primer ($55)

Consider this your go-to makeup prep step for the digital age. It not only protects your skin against pollution and sets the perfect silky setting for foundation, but it also shields against high-energy visible light and infrared light —two harmful factors that the company says can lead to premature aging and skin damage, which is emitted by electronic devices such as tablets, smart phones and computers.
