Market Fresh

Ponce City Market's new Williams-Sonoma Home Showroom and Design Center serves as the brand's fifth location nationwide and first in the Southeast. At a whopping 9,251 square feet, the expansive Old Fourth Ward space offers a little bit of everything. The comprehensive showroom features a dedicated design center with complimentary design services that engulf a complete collection of customized fabrics, wood finishes and rug samples available both on-site and in-home. The store will also feature a hand-picked selection of unique objects and accessories discovered across the United States by Williams-Sonoma designers. What's more, the store plans to offer free weekly technique classes hosted by its own culinary specialists at 2PM each Sunday. 675 Ponce de Leon Ave. NE, 404.810.7486, williams-sonoma.com

Taylor-Made

Charleston-based, woman-owned company Taylor Burke Home has taken root with its first permanent showroom opening this fall in ADAC. The luxury home decor brand pulls no punches when it comes to bold hues, vintage inspiration and a plethora of unique furnishings that serve as instant conversation pieces. Owner Julianne Taylor has found inspiration for her wares through plenty of globe-trotting—anticipate brands such as Addison Weeks, Times Two Design, Mitchell Black and even Atlanta-based Lacefield Designs (which crafted an exclusive collection of pillows just for TBH) inside the 1,350-square-foot space. Plus, look out for Taylor's new tome, DesignHER, to be released later this fall. ADAC, 351 Peachtree Hills Ave., Ste. 502, 800.860.5821, taylorburkehome.com
