

ON OUR RADAR

1 GOOD KARMA

Tired of wearing basic yoga pants and tank tops as your go-to fitness wardrobe? Canadian-made apparel from Vancouver-based Karma blends the functional with the fashionable. These street-friendly pieces are also the perfect outfit for the Victoria Yoga Conference, January 31 to February 2. > Breathe Athletic, $54

2 DESIGN IS BY JEFF

STYLE
Columbia artist known for his conscious, heirloom-quality furniture. > WestCoast Eco Home, $895 to $1,095

3 SECRET MESSAGE

Covet and Keep jewellery designer Elea Hillard uses braille on her creations to create unique missives like "Know Thyself."

> Deborah necklace, covetandkeep.com, $119

4 FILM BUFF

Calling all cinephiles! Screenwriter, producer, and member of the Canadian Film Institute and Canada's former ambassador to Iran, Ken Taylor. > February 7 to 16, victoriafilmfestival.com

5 GOING DUTCH

This unique line of cedar bicycle crates, created by Dita von Aesch of Victoria Wood Studio, boasts a stylish Dutch aesthetic. (The Netherlands is the cycling capital of the world, after all.) > leVeloVictoria.co, $69-99

6 RADIANT YOU

Feel like winter is stealing your glow? Fake a subtle sun-kissed flush with mineral make-up — it's natural and beneficial to your skin. > Jane Iredale PurePressed Blush, Le Spa Sereine or Sapphire Day Spa, $32

The August Tank features a straight silhouette, contrasting mesh accents, and 1920s style detailing: A fitted hem band ensures it won't ride up during class.
