Game Playtime: Approximately 30 minutes.

Contents

52 Ice Cream Cards

Object of the Game

To collect a set of 4 identical ice cream treats.

Preparing the Deck

Separate entire deck into 13 sets of 4 identical cards. Use 1 set of 4 identical cards for each person playing. For example, if 3 people are playing, use 3 sets of 4 identical cards to play. Put the rest of the deck aside, as they will not be used during this game.

How to Play

Shuffle cards and deal out all the cards. Each player should only hold 4 cards in their hand throughout game play. Keep in mind, there is no taking turns in this game, everyone plays at the same time. It's a flurry of frozen treats.

The game starts with all the players saying "YUM-YUM-YUM". After which each player selects one unwanted card from their hand, puts it face down on the table and slides it to the player on their left. Everyone should quickly pick up the card they are passed, look at it, and determine which card in their hand will be passed next. Everyone repeats "YUM-YUM-YUM" and the passing continues.

When to Scream

When a player has collected a set of 4 identical ice cream treats they are to scream out loud, "I SCREAM" and slap their cards down in the middle of the table. The player that screams "I SCREAM" is given the first letter to the word "YUM". Continue playing rounds until one player has completed spelling the word "YUM". Keeping score can be done on a scrap piece of paper.

Oops . . .

If you accidentally scream "I SCREAM" in error you are penalized by taking away one letter in the word "YUM". If you have no letters to take away, then you are given a negative letter. So be very careful and not overly eager. match appears. If you pound and win you are still in the game, if you don't you are out of the game.
