

Low Ponies

Let's be real, right—a simple ponytail? These girl-style points raise the stakes by the name of your needs. For an extra-polished look, coat drooped silky oil at the ends for shine.

Rosebud Lips

For a fresh take on lip, dab on berry shades or saturated pinks and use fingers to blend out. For extra fun, make your lips Patti Smith, it's time to look like you've "been out all day and [have] a good lip."

Brushed Volume

Blow-dry hair with dry shampoo and use a boar-bristle brush to gently separate strands. It's "40s- to '50s 'very forties,'" says Gomez, hairstylist at Aveda City.
