

Nubuck Leather

Our nubuck leather is a top-grain Italian leather from Moore & Giles, one of America's oldest and most revered leather companies. Each hide is lightly buffed for a soft, suede-like texture and velvety hand, adding sophisticated texture and variation to each piece.

Its luxury is felt in the refined texture and soft glow created by the way light is subtly reflected off of its surface. Natural variation and pebbling will be present when this leather is pulled for upholstery, highlighting the unique character and beauty of each hide. You can mimic the range of tones by pulling your finger along the back of the swatch.

CARING FOR NUBUCK LEATHER

As nubuck is made from top-grain leather, it is more durable and long-lasting compared to suede. Though it is treated during tanning, spills should immediately be wiped away to avoid staining.

- Never use harsh solvents or cleaners that are not specifically recommended for nubuck leather.
- To maintain the look of your nubuck leather, dust periodically with a dry cloth, otherwise enjoy the natural aging process.
