BRACELET

Cut 3 strands of yarn 30" long. Thread all three strands through a bead, and slide the bead to the center of the strands {photo 1}. Hold all strands together to tie an overhand knot, securing the bead in place {photo 2}.

Secure bead to pinnable surface with a T-pin. You'll need the pin to hold fast when you tug on it a bit.

Prepare the strands of yarn for knotting. Spread them out in pairs, so there are two strands in the center and two strands on each side. The two center strands are the anchor strands. The outer strands are the tying strands.

Tie 3 square knots. {photo 3}

* Thread the anchor strands through a bead and slide the bead up snug against your knots.

Bringing the tying strands down on either side of the bead, tie 3 more square knots. {photo 4}

Repeat from * 3 more times. A total of 5 beads have been placed, including the bead at the beginning.

Keeping your strands of yarn in pairs, make a braid 2½" long. {photo 5} Thread all 6 strands of yarn through a bead and slide the bead over the braid to your last square knot.

Fold the braid into a loop and tie the ends around the braid in an overhand knot. Trim the ends to form a tassel. {photo 6}
