NEW POSITIONS

The Sex Sling creates a different sensation by causing compression of the woman's vaginal canal (the wearer). The sensation intensifies as her partner feels "bigger," and her partner experiences that highly desired sensation of "tightness" as he penetrates her. By pulling on the straps and raising the legs higher or lower, even more different sensations are created for both partners. The woman can last so much longer in this position as her legs are supported by the strong straps and the weight of her head on the super thick and comfortable neck pad. Another bonus is that her partner has his hands free to play, tickle or tease as he wishes.

The Sex Sling™ allows the wearer, while on their back, to comfortably raise their legs and tilt their hips. If a woman is wearing this, she will experience deeper penetration, more direct G-spot contact and stimulation and reduced leg and back fatigue. This product is also ideal for oral sex, as it allows the wearer to get their legs up in the air for easier access.

The wearer can easily adjust the tension and thus how high their legs are raised with straps that attach to the padded ankle cuffs. Easy plastic adjusters can be raised for quick release of the legs as well.
