APPLICATIONS & SPECIFICATIONS

LEDGER PANELS, also known as stacked stone, stone veneer, ledgerstone cladding, create a distinguishing curb-side appeal to your project. Adding architectural dimension and texture to both commercial and residential backgrounds. Most ledgers are stacked planks assembled in 6"x24", 8"x18", 8"x24" mesh mounted panels, made up of individual pieces that have been fit and glued together, and not required grout because of the tight joint. Our collection of Panels and Dog Ear Corners offers more than thirty different natural stone items from all over the world, made in Granite, Limestone, Marble, Quartzite, Sandstone, Schist, Slate, and Travertine. Ledger Panels must be sealed periodically to maintain their original appearance and increase their life span. A quality stone penetrating sealer is recommended for all applications.
