

Nestled in the heart of Durango, Colorado, Sorrel Sky Gallery beckons art enthusiasts to immerse themselves in a world of creativity and beauty. Beyond the “Closed” sign on its front window, a team of passionate individuals prepares to welcome visitors into a space where the magic of art unfolds.

Sorrel Sky Gallery is more than just a business—it is a sanctuary where value is placed on passion and creating a lasting experience.

For over two decades, Sorrel Sky Gallery has defied conventions under the visionary leadership of Shanan Campbell. It has become a haven for artists, collectors, and visionaries alike, forging lasting connections within the art community. Anchored by three pillars—the artists, the collectors, and the dedicated staff—Sorrel Sky Gallery’s enduring success stems from the harmonious synergy between these key elements.

Last year, the gallery embarked on a transformative journey to celebrate its 20th anniversary. Guided by Gallery Manager, Masha Halavach, Sorrel Sky Gallery expanded its space, doubling its size without interrupting its operations. This remarkable feat showcases the gallery’s dedication to its patrons and the commitment of its team.

SORREL SKY GALLERY

WHERE ART COMES TO LIFE

Story and photos provided by Sorrel Sky Gallery

Owner, Shanan Campbell with Durango Sorrel Sky Team just before the opening night of the new expansion right: Paintings by Miles Glynn and Hadley Rampton, gourd kachina panel by Robert Rivera, sculpture by Rosetta, George Lundeen, and Jim Eppler

Paintings by Alrene LaDell Hayes, and sculpture by Rosetta

Anchored by three pillars— the artists, the collectors, and the dedicated staff

Driven by a desire to create an intimate, upscale, and sophisticated atmosphere, the expansion aimed to immerse visitors in a world of artistry. Meticulous attention was given to every detail, ensuring a seamless flow through the viewing rooms and fostering interactive experiences with the artwork. By harmoniously integrating various mediums such as photography, paintings, sculptures, hand-painted chandeliers, and elegant furnishings, Sorrel Sky Gallery sparks the imagination of both seasoned and emerging collectors. Captivating videos featuring artists passionately sharing their inspirations helps to establish a profound connection to the artwork, transcending mere visual appreciation.

Renowned for representing exceptional artists like Star Liana York, Edward Aldrich, Kevin Red Star, and Ben Nighthorse, Sorrel Sky Gallery has expanded its roster to include additional luminaries. Esteemed painter Tom Gilleon, world-renowned photographer David Yarrow, masterful sculptors Bryce Pettit and Rosetta, and accomplished painters Doyle Hostetler and Arlene LaDell Hayes now grace the gallery's diverse tapestry of over 100 local, regional, national, and international artists. This expansive range of talent ensures that Sorrel Sky Gallery continues to captivate and inspire with its well-curated collection.

Paintings by Alrene LaDell Hayes, large-scale photographs by Tony Stromberg, sculptures by Bryce Pettit, and handpainted glass chandelier by Jenny Floravita

Paintings by SC Mummert and Chuck Middlekauf, and sculpture by Bryce Pettit

Large-scale photographs by Tony Stromberg, sculptures by Bryce Pettit, and handpainted glass chandelier by Jenny Floravita

At Sorrel Sky Gallery, art is more than just a transaction. It is a catalyst for joy, emotion, introspection, and growth. Through meticulous attention to detail and commitment to customer service, the team aims to ignite a deep appreciation for artistic expression. From managing their state-of-the-art website, and social media platforms, and introducing NFTs, to organizing exhibitions, every task is undertaken with purpose, recognizing that even the smallest actions contribute to the overall experience for visitors.

As the doors open and visitors step inside Sorrel Sky Gallery, they embark on a journey of discovery. They are invited to immerse themselves in a world where art transcends its physical form, evoking emotions and sparking connections. The dedicated team stands ready, driven by their shared passion for art and their commitment to providing an enriching experience for each visitor.

Sorrel Sky Gallery is more than a space to display artworks—it is a testament to the power of creativity, connection, and inspiration.

It is a place where the ordinary becomes extraordinary, and the beauty of art permeates every aspect of its operations. With each passing day, Sorrel Sky Gallery continues to thrive, nurturing the profound impact that art has on our lives. ED

(left page)
top left: Gallery Manager, Masha Halavach and Owner, Shanan Campbell

top right: Paintings by SC Mummert and Maura Allen, and handpainted glass nightlight by Jenny Floravita

bottom left: Paintings by SC Mummert, Maura Allen, and Edward Aldrich

below: Paintings by Edward Aldrich and Roberto Ugalde

