I've been looking for the right coffee table for years! Why is it such a difficult thing to find? I was in Hacienda Blue and the sales assistant mentioned they offered custom-made pieces, and I started thinking about my coffee table.

I was looking for a small one, and ideally oval-shaped to fit into my small lounge.

We lived in India previously and I like the bone-inlay "Rajasthani" feel. I also like unique mix-and-match items. So, I simply love Hacienda Blue products. It's not often two items in my house come from the same shop.

Hacienda Blue hadn't done many coffee tables before, but they assured me they could make pretty much anything I could dream up. This in itself was a bit daunting, and also not being able to see what the product would actually look like in advance.

But I am thrilled with it! I also have a chest of drawers from the store, and a few home items like platters and frames. I often intend to give them for gifts but then end up keeping them for myself because they're just so gorgeous.

I love the option of custom-making items. You can get pieces that perfectly fit your rooms, or drawers that are the perfect depth for different items.

We were looking for a European-sized super king bed so that if (or when!) we move home, it'll be easy to find the right bedding. These are not common or particularly easy to find in Singapore, so it was lucky that we came across European Bedding.

My husband and I love simple and elegant design of their pieces, and the fact we could have a natural organic latex mattress individually tailored to each of our needs. So, we chose to shop there for our new customised bed.

Sarah at European Bedding personally tested and matched us to our perfect mattress type. They then made the mattress for us with "his and her" sides so we each get a top night's sleep. We can also adjust our own bed base separately to personalise our own sides. Even with all this, somehow the join between the two sides works seamlessly. We couldn't be happier with our bed, and our two little boys love the extra space for them!

The service provided by Sarah and her team was outstanding. Sarah spent a couple of hours with us while we chatted and tried out different mattresses. She also gave us lots of advice about getting the perfect blend of comfort and style – all while keeping us fuelled with gorgeous snacks, teas and coffees. The team that delivered and installed the bed couldn't have been more professional and gave us great advice about maintenance.
