Care & Maintenance

If the watch got in contact with salt water, wash it with water and let it completely dry. Don't let the watch dry on direct sun, near strong magnetic field or on the place, where there are differences in temperature and humidity.

Very sensitive and complicated mechanism of the timepiece will work for many years without any problems if you take care of the watch properly.

Winding Timepiece

To wind the timepiece properly you have to give the watch a shake and then spin 25 times with the crown in clockwise direction. This step will wind mechanism and the watch will start going. The timepiece automatically wind itself with movement of your hand. The spring that absorbs energy from the movement releases power little by little and keeps the watch going.

Time Setting

To set the time, pull out the crown and turn in clockwise direction. Never turn the crown in the opposite direction, it can damage mechanism of the timepiece. After you set the time, press the crown back.
