Emser Tile Awarded 2019 Best Company Culture and Diversity Emser Wins Additional Two Awards for 3rd Annual Awards Program

LOS ANGELES (February 21, 2020) – Emser Tile, a leading designer, marketer and producer of the world’s finest tile and natural stone, won three awards in 2019 for their dedication and execution of excellent workplace culture and values from Comparably.com. Based on feedback provided by current Emser employees, Emser Tile ranks in the top 50 companies for company culture as well as one of the companies leading the charge in implementing a diverse workforce.

This year's top ranking of companies for corporate culture were based on sentiment ratings provided by employees who anonymously rated their employers. Winners were determined based on a series of 50 questions across nearly 20 core culture metrics. Workplace culture questions ranged from office environment and compensation to leadership and work-life balance.

The winners of Comparably’s 3rd Annual Best Companies for Diversity Awards received the highest ratings by diverse employees of color (non-Caucasian) who provided anonymous feedback about their employers within the past year.

“We want to thank the Comparably team’s dedication to highlighting companies striving to be examples of positive workplace culture and a diverse employee base, at all levels” said Mara Heras, Vice President of Marketing. “These recognitions reinforce that we are affecting positive change in our company, but also serving as an example to others.”
