PLANT-BASED BEAUTY

“Derived from nature” is all the rage right now in personal care products, and here are some all-star launches. Started by two former La Prairie execs, Planted in Beauty by Well Within offers this knockout exfoliator featuring all-natural pineapple and raspberry. The micropolish banishes dead skin without irritation ($75; well-withinbeauty.com). Also, Australian brand Edible Beauty comes stateside with 100% organic beauty that’s “so pure you could eat it.” This antioxidant-rich face oil reduces redness and boosts brightness ($68; ediblebeautyaustralia.com). Finally, from The Body Shop, Sri Lankan ginger is the star in the Ginger Scalp Care Shampoo, formulated for dry, itchy scalps ($14; thebodyshop.com).

PRODUCE PRO

You bring a reusable shopping bag to the store, so why not reusable produce bags? These lightweight bags make shopping a breeze—just fill and go! And you can rinse veggies and fruit right through the bags. ($6.97; amazon.com)

SWEET SMELLING

Earth Mama Organics is my go-to brand for gifting moms-to-be with pure and natural goodness. These new deodorant minis are always a hit. Nothing bad and only good goes into sweet-smelling scents like Ginger-Aid and Bright Citrus. A set of four is the perfect gift. ($15.99; earthmamaorganics.com)
