1 Step in front of your Pod so you are facing the front door. Side windows and/or doors should be zipped closed. Front door should be unzipped all the way like it is on a hinge.

2 Place the Pod on its back so it is laying on the ground with the front facing up.

Fold in right side. NOTE: Pods can vary as to which side folded in first works best. If your Pod isn't collapsing easily, try folding the left side in first.

Quickly check to see that the steel wires are flat and not twisted. Run your fingers along the wire or gently step on the wires to flatten.

3 After both sides have been folded and the Pod is flat on its back, tuck in the bottom and top.

4 Stand the Pod up in front of you so the back of the Pod is facing you.

5 Firmly curl the Pod forward halfway down.

After curling halfway down, inch your hands closer to the center.

6 Continue to firmly curl the Pod forward until the top wire is facing toward your shins. The "curl" is the key to ensuring your Under the Weather® Pod folds properly—See video on our website for a visual!

7 After curling, and while holding the Pod against your legs, grab the right side of the Pod and push it to the middle.

8 Grab the left side and push it on top to shape it into a circle. Place in carry case.

WARNING: Folding improperly can permanently damage the Pod. Pods with damaged wires resulting from improper folding are not covered under warranty.
