Recreational services—Exclusion, restriction or modification of rights under the Australian Consumer Law (SA)

51. Your rights: Under sections 60 and 61 of the Australian Consumer Law (SA), if a person in trade or commerce supplies you with services (including recreational services), there is—

- a statutory guarantee that those services will be rendered with due care and skill; and
- a statutory guarantee that those services, and any product resulting from those services, will be reasonably fit for the purpose for which the services are being acquired (as long as that purpose is made known to the supplier); and
- a statutory guarantee that those services, and any product resulting from those services, will be of such a nature, and quality, state or condition, that they might reasonably be expected to achieve the result that the consumer wishes to achieve (as long as that wish is made known to the supplier or a person with whom negotiations have been conducted in relation to the acquisition of the services).

52. Excluding, restricting or modifying your rights: Under section 42 of the Fair Trading Act 1987, the supplier of recreational services is entitled to ask you to agree to exclude, restrict or modify his or her liability for any personal injury suffered by you or another person for whom or on whose behalf you are acquiring the services (a third party consumer). If you sign this form, you will be agreeing to exclude, restrict or modify the supplier's liability with the result that compensation may not be payable if you or the third party consumer suffer personal injury.

Important: You do not have to agree to exclude, restrict or modify your rights by signing this form. The supplier may refuse to provide you with the services if you do not agree to exclude, restrict or modify your rights by signing this form. Even if you sign this form, you may still have further legal rights against the supplier. A child under the age of 18 cannot legally agree to exclude, restrict or modify his or her rights. A parent or guardian of a child who acquires recreational services for the child cannot legally agree to exclude, restrict or modify the child's rights.

53. Agreement to exclude, restrict or modify your rights:
I agree that the liability of SATC [the supplier of recreational services] for any personal injury that may result from the supply of the recreational services that may be suffered by me (or a person for whom or on whose behalf I am acquiring the services) is excluded.

54. Definitions: Recreational services are services that consist of participation in—

- a sporting activity or similar leisure-time pursuit; or
- any other activity that involves a significant degree of physical exertion or risk and is undertaken for the purposes of recreation, enjoyment or leisure.

Personal injury is bodily injury and includes mental and nervous shock and death.

Privacy

55. SATC collects and uses participant's personal information in accordance with its Information Privacy Policy (IPP) Statement available at <http://www.tourism.sa.gov.au/privacy.aspx>.

56. Without limitation, SATC may disclose participant's personal information to the Event Manager, organisers, promoters and sponsor organisations in order to conduct the Event and/or Associated Event(s) in a safe and effective manner, and for sponsor organisations to benefit from their sponsorship of the Event and/or Associated Event(s).

Miscellaneous

57. These Conditions of Entry are governed by, and are to be construed in accordance with, the law of South Australia and the parties irrevocably submit to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of that jurisdiction.

58. These Conditions of Entry, and any documents incorporated by reference, constitute the entire agreement between the parties in connection with its subject matter and supersedes all previous agreements or understandings between the parties in connection with its subject matter.

59. A term or part of a term of this agreement that is illegal or unenforceable may be severed from this agreement and the remaining Conditions of Entry or parts thereof continue in force.
