

Business Terms

Conditions

This conditions are valid, if no other written statements has been made between Pro Flight Trainer and the customer. Acceptation of goods always means the acceptance of this conditions from the customer. No conditions written by customer are valid, until we give our written agreement for them.

Price

All our Price are VAT/HST excluded. Any import duty and tax will be at the charge of the customer, as in not included in our price listing.

Delivery time

Delivery times are subject to change without notice due to higher influence. we understand under higher influence any kind of dangerous meteorological event, high increasing of demand, delivery problem from our suppliers, and so on.

Goods

Goods has to be checked immediately on reception. Complains are only possible in the first 8 days after delivery. After that period of time, no complains can been issued. In case of transport damage, a reclamation form has to be filled to the delivering post office in the next 2 days after delivery. After that period, all responsibility for transport damages is carried by the customer.

Returning goods

In case the customer wants to return a purchase (due to mechanical or electronical defect), the return shipment costs will always be at the charge of the customer. Pro Flight Trainer will only refund the selling price of the unit, minus any charge generated by the back-shipment of the goods. This conditions only applies for merchandises with mechanical or electronical defects.

Returning goods without written permission never gives guarantee of refunding. Pro Flight Trainer has the right to authorize returns on a "case to case" basis.

In case the customer wants to return merchandise without any defect, it needs to be shipped back in the first 14 days after delivery of the goods. In those cases, the prorated refund is 70% of the selling price. Any damages due to poor packaging during back-shipment of the unit will be deducted from the refund.

Payment delay

Pro Flight Trainer has the right to cancel every open orders or delivery in case of payment delay without notifying the customer. Goods are always entirely in the property of Pro Flight Trainer, as long as they haven't been paid.

Responsibility

Our responsibility in case of justified complains never excess the replacement of goods at same value. Besides that, customer has no claim for any kind of price reduction, damage-costs recovery of any kind due to direct or indirect consequence of the delivery and installation of the product.