

From The Heart

Brought to you by SafeGuardian™

We've Partnered with Susan G. Komen®

SafeGuardian is proud to announce its new marketing partnership with Susan G. Komen®!

In addition to the partnership, SafeGuardian has released an exclusive limited-edition Assisting Hands Help+Alert Pink Pendant. Over the next calendar year, a portion of all retail sales of the exclusive device will be donated directly to Komen.

Help your clients remain safe and independent all while helping Susan G. Komen® to find a cure!

Learn More

Keeping Clients Connected During an Outbreak

As COVID-19, better known as Coronavirus, makes its way through the U.S., doctors maintain that the best way to combat the virus — especially for seniors — is through early detection.

Communication is essential in cases such as these, and having a device like the Assisting Hands Help+Alert™ will allow your clients to immediately and directly contact their caregivers or physicians the instant possible symptoms appear. In the end, the Help+Alert™ can be key in avoiding costly emergency room visits.

Learn More

Innovative Voice Alerts

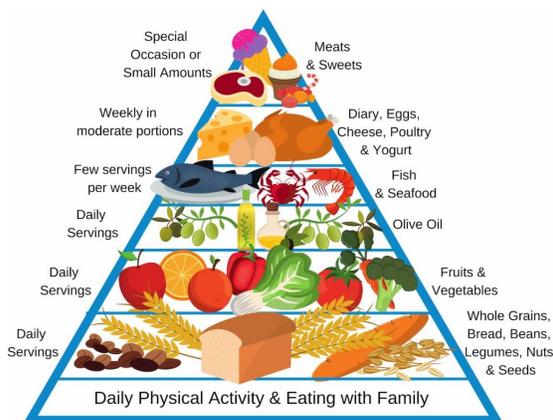

One of the most exciting new features of the new Assisting Hands Help+Alert™ are the innovative voice prompts.

During such events as a fall detection, an SOS alert, an incoming phone call, a low battery alert, etc., the Help+Alert™ will announce to the wearer exactly what is happening.

To hear a clip for yourself, click the link below.

Listen Now

In Other News...

The Mediterranean Diet Could Help 'Healthy Aging,' Study Suggests

Eating a Mediterranean diet could have a positive effect within just one year for older adults, increasing "good" bacteria in their guts and decreasing the "bad" ones, new research suggests. - USA Today

Photo: Getty Images

Read More

What to Know About Healthy Blood Pressure Levels

The goals that are right for you, and how to meet them. - Consumer Reports

Photo: Consumer Reports

Read More

