GORGEOUS IN GREY

Modern and traditional styles meet in the middle with the Original Hand-painted collection by bespoke kitchen cabinet makers Smallbone. A palette of soft greys has been added to this collection, using the latest Mylands 'Colours of London' paint range. These shades are inspired by a rich cultural heritage, from the Georgian times up until the present day. Kitchens start from £40,000. smallbone.co.uk

SERVING UP

Enjoy the work of traditionally skilled artisans with this new range of tableware and serving utensils from Nkuku. Made from sustainably sourced mango wood, there's a whole range including everything from a ladle, pizza board and platters to salad servers and a Pachai pestle and mortar. We like how the simplicity in the designs lets the natural beauty of the wood speak for itself. nkuku.com

Handle THE HEAT

For a place to put hot pots and pans down, these marble trivets are handy to keep nearby. By Norwegian designer Hallgeir Holmsvedt, each one has linear grooves carved into it to add interest to this everyday object. They're £35 each. muuto.com

Happy Returns

This year Holloways of Ludlow are celebrating their 30th anniversary and opening a 7th UK showroom to mark the occasion. 'Holloways Period House Shop', set up by Mark Holloway and his brother Simon is due to open in the spring and will be located in Corve Street, Ludlow, Shropshire. hollowaysoftudlow.com

Pull up a stool

With its shapely turned legs, we love the 102 Stools by alp. Standing at 44cm, they're a nice height for bench seating or you could use them side tables. They have been designed by Annick Petersen and come in a choice of Oak or Oak and Grey. £175 each. shoptent.co.uk
