Tyler Howard – Raleigh, NC - $500

This young man is part of the Buffalo Lanes family. Tyler has been through quite a lot and has grown into a very respectful person. He is a terrific bowler and plans to initially attend college locally. We know the scholarship money will be a tremendous help to him.

Avery Goulding – Auburn, Maine - $500

Avery never wants to settle and is a great competitor. She is a friend to her fellow bowlers on and off the lanes. She finished 19th at the 2018 DV8 Shootout, which qualified her for 2019 Junior gold in Detroit.

Kalia “KJ” Patterson – Charlotte, NC - $1,000

In her words – “Bowling is my life, ultimate passion and motivation in life. It’s the one sport I always look forward to almost every weekend. It’s the one sport where it makes me feel like I actually belong in this world and have a purpose in life. This sport gave me friendships that will always be with me, memories that’ll last a lifetime, and countless opportunities that I can be thankful for that most people don’t have.”

Jr Gold Scholarship - $500

awarded July 21, 2018

Brandon Lee - Centerton, AR

Chuck Gardner Bowl4Life Scholarship - $1,000 each

awarded July 13, 2018

Ashley Everett – Belleville, Michigan - $1,000

In her words – “Success in life comes when you simply refuse to give up, with goals so strong that obstacles, failure, and loss only act as motivation – The person she hopes to meet one day is Kelly Kulick – She will be attending Indiana Institute of Technology to study Criminal Justice

Donald Richards – O’Fallon, Illinois - $1,000

In his words – “As I research colleges I hope to major in chemistry and bowl collegiately. I would love to meet Dennis Sheirs, the Vice President of the Chemical Division at Kegel” – currently a junior attending O’Fallon Township High School

McCayla Donna – Prospect, Maine - $1,000

In her words – “I have given my life to bowling not just so that I could do what I love, but also to bring others to understand and love the sport. I participate on the bowling team at Lincoln Memorial University in Florida and will be attending Martin Methodist College in the fall of 2018. I would be honored to meet Tom Smallwood because he is a mentally tough player.”

Carrington Russell – Virginia Beach, Virginia - $1,000

In her words – “Volunteering to help anyone I can is one of my favorite things to do – My ambition is to bowl collegiately – I want to major in Biology and go to medical school to become a doctor. I am currently a junior attending Floyd Kellam High School. The person I would love to meet is Tennelle Milligan, the PWBA tournament director.”

1st Annual $2,000 Johnny Petraglia-Bowl4Life Scholarship

I am a bowler – I am someone who is part of a community that has provided me with memories and relationships that I will always cherish.

Bowling and what it has given to me means more than I can express, and I could not be more grateful.

The goal for my future is to be happy and be a decent kind-hearted person – I hold my character to a very high standard.

I want to be a leader in the bowling industry and be an advocate for the Bowl4Life Foundation.

There is one overwhelming quality which I possess that is more prominent than the others. That quality is hard work. So, when finding a picture that embodies my person as a whole, the only thing I could really think of was a heart. I work hard now, at the young age of fourteen so that I can allow my life to thrive in future years. Hard work leads to results, and ultimately, I don't only work as hard as a heart, I put heart into everything I do.

Brooklyn Boudreau from Longview, Washington – will be 15 years old on June 17, 2018

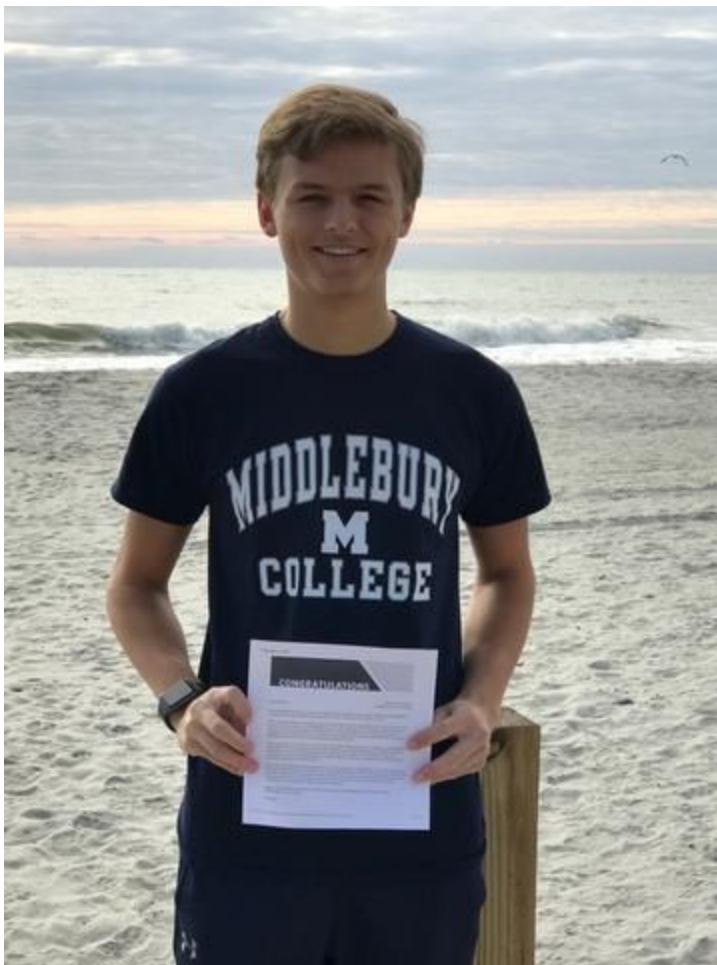

2018 Chuck Gardner Bowl4Life Scholarship - $1,000

America. My biggest blessing in life is the ability to call such an amazing country home.

I have an unparalleled appreciation for our law enforcement officers, our freedom, and for the service men and women who make it possible.

I believe in making sacrifices to achieve success. I believe in standing firm in your morals and ethics; no matter if you are alone.

Clayton Hucks from Myrtle Beach, SC – attending Middlebury College in Vermont to pursue a career related to forensic science or comparable field within the FBI

2018 Chuck Gardner Bowl4Life Scholarship - $1,000

I am very studious and love to learn. I founded the varsity bowling program at my high school.

I am a Junior Ambassador for the Juvenile Arthritis Foundation and have traveled to Capitol Hill in Washington DC to talk with congressmen to create more awareness of this disease, in which my sister was diagnosed.

I am the 2018 USBC Youth Ambassador of the Year.

Sara Howell from Slidell, Louisiana – attending Louisiana Tech to study Political Science with a concentration in Pre-Law

2018 Chuck Gardner Bowl4Life Scholarship - $1,000

Bowling allows me to escape from the real world and do what I love and enjoy. Bowling is something that made me proud of who I am and what I am becoming.

My accomplishments drive me to work harder. I always want more and to become a better person.

I am a faithful follower of Bowl4Life and love to represent them everywhere I go.

My motto – Anything can be accomplished.

Jamie Thomas from Helena, Alabama - 13 years old

2018 Chuck Gardner Bowl4Life Scholarship - $1,000

I learned early on that if I wanted to be taken seriously I needed to be professional. I always dress for success on the lanes as well as respect the game and my fellow competitors.

I am very excited about what B4L stands for and this is a program I can relate to. I would welcome the challenge and opportunity to plan, promote and run a B4L tournament. I would be honored to represent and help promote B4L.

Competition is serious and my focus on the lanes has earned me the nickname "Lone Wolf".

Garrett Anfinson from Le Sueur, Minnesota – attending Iowa Central Community College to study to become a mechanical electrician.
