Short Trips from Singapore

Still thinking of where to travel to? Here are some ideas for a short trip from Singapore that you may still embark on with the family!

Rawa Island, Malaysia

Located a few hours of drive and a short boat trip away from Singapore's border is Rawa Island, named for the abundant Rawas, i.e. white doves in the island.

Langkawi, Malaysia

Langkawi, Malaysia, is a favoured travel destination for many and for a good reason too.

Its beaches, picturesque with clean waters and soft sand not only offer a sight to behold but also a myriad of water activities you can try out with your family. However, impressive beaches are not all there is to Langkawi.

The Skybridge provides a spectacular view of the whole island and can be accessed via the Skycab which is quite like Sentosa's cable car except with a much better view of the island's landscape.

Bali, Indonesia

An equally popular destination as, if not more so, than Langkawi, Bali has a little of everything to offer, from volcanic mountains and verdant rice terraces, to pristine beaches and cultural sites.

Photos Credits: VUE (bottom)

Discover ancient Hindu temples with intricately carved structures and sculptures, impressive beaches for swimming, snorkelling, sun bathing, sunset gazing and sandcastle building, waterparks with slides and rides that'll set your heart pounding, various theme parks, safaris, breath-taking cultural performances, and more in the Island of the Gods.

Phuket, Thailand

If you're comfortable with going a little further away from home waters, why not hit Phuket?

Phuket's many beaches with their clear blue waters and soft sand are picture-perfect. Of course if you're travelling all the way to Phuket, frolicking in the waters is not all you and your little ones are going to want to do.

There is Phuket Trickeye Museum where you can confound reality and take plenty of quirky pictures with the little ones.

If your kids are a little older, you could also bring them to Splash Jungle Waterpark featuring multiple waterslides, gentle slides and toddler pool, and try-out KidzSole Flying Trapeze where visitors can savour the thrilling sensation of flight.
