

Warning!

- Do not use with babies under 1,8 kg (4lbs). Please ask your pediatrician before using Weego PREMIE.
- Only use when worn by an adult.
- Never use in car.
- Always keep all buckles and snaps fastened and inner pouch zipper fully zipped during use. Always keep outer pouch zipper closed in front-facing-in and backpack position.
- Never place baby facing-out in backpack position.
- Only use in front-facing-out position with infants who can hold up their heads unassisted. When the legs are too long to be put in the outer pouch, hold them up with your hands so your baby does not get a hollow back.
- Do not leave your baby longer than 30 minutes in the front-facing-out position, as in this position it cannot escape the visual stimulation!
- Small children can fall through a leg opening. Be sure to follow manufacturer's instructions for use and adjust inner pouch leg openings to the smallest size possible.
- Before each use make sure all seams are sound and the buckles and snaps are secure.
- Always pass the Weego on to other people with these instructions for use.

How to use inner pouch snaps

Using the inner pouch snaps, adjust the height of the inner pouch according to your babies size.

- 0 - about 9 months:
The function of the outer pouch collar is to support baby's head and neck. The inner pouch should be at the appropriate height that the outer pouch collar is just above the baby's neck. Therefore for newborns use the top row of snaps. As your baby grows, use the lower rows of snaps.
- From about 9 months on:
Now your baby wants more freedom to move. The function of the outer pouch collar is now to support your baby's back at a second point. The inner pouch should be in the appropriate position to close under your baby's arms. So start using the upper row of snaps again. As your baby grows, use the lower rows of snaps.
- Before each use make sure all seams are sound and the pouch buckles are secure.
- To change the height of the inner pouch:
Lay the Weego flat and fasten the inner pouch to the appropriate row of snaps. Make sure all five snaps are fastened.

Position 2: "Face-out" (from 5 months on)

- 1 Only use the Weego in this position when your baby can hold the head unassisted!
- i Do not leave your baby in this position for too long, as (contrary to the other positions) it has no possibility to escape the visual stimulation!

1. Using the inner pouch snaps, adjust the inner pouch to the appropriate height that the outer pouch collar can be closed under your baby's arms.
2. Put your arms through the shoulder straps. Grasp the comfort strap behind your head and snap the buckle 1. Fasten the waist belt and adjust to fit snugly. Adjust shoulder straps so the Weego fits high on your chest. Adjust the comfort strap for a snug fit. For maximum comfort the comfort strap should be pulled as far down as possible on the padded part of the shoulder straps.
3. Unzip the inner pouch and, holding your baby facing out, gently pull your baby's legs through the leg openings of the inner pouch. Fasten buckle and zip the inner pouch closed 2.
4. Bring the collar of the outer pouch under your baby's arms and snap the buckle closed 3. The collar must rest under the baby's arms for proper support. If the collar is at your baby's waist, adjust the inner pouch to a lower row of snaps. Then adjust the inner pouch waist strap so the inner pouch fits snugly around your baby's waist. Adjust the collar strap until baby's back rests snugly against your chest.

- i The outer pouch can remain unzipped in the front-facing-out position. In cooler weather and with smaller babies, the outer pouch can be zipped in the front-facing-out position. In this position, never guide the baby's legs through the outer pouch leg openings.

Position 3: "Backpack" (0 - 24 months)

- i Practice putting the Weego on your back (steps 3 and 4 below) before putting your baby in the backpack position.
- i Never place baby facing-out in the backpack position.

1. Adjust the height of the inner pouch according to the size of your baby (see "how to use inner pouch snaps").
2. Put your arms through the shoulder straps. Then put your baby in the Weego following steps 3 and 4 of the front-facing-in position.
3. Loosen the shoulder straps. Firmly grasp the straps and hold the Weego in front of you as shown 1.
4. Swing the Weego around your left shoulder while bringing your right arm over your head 2+3. While you swing the Weego around your left shoulder, put your left arm through the shoulder strap.
5. Lean forward, resting your baby on your back, and put your right arm through the other shoulder strap 4.
6. Pulling both shoulder straps upwards to make sure that the Weego sits high on your back, immediately tighten the shoulder straps 5. Fasten comfort strap across your chest and adjust to fit snugly. Tighten waist belt 6.

Using Weego as a Nursing Sling

(from 0 months)

i Always nurse with your baby in the Weego, facing-in-position.

1. Unfasten the comfort strap 1. Loosen shoulder straps slightly.
2. Slip one of your arms out of its shoulder strap and fold the back and the loose shoulder strap of the Weego towards you 2.
3. Lower your baby in the Weego on the "strapless" side so that your baby's face is in the right position to nurse 3. If necessary unzip the outer pouch halfway.

How to use Security Buttons and Loops

There are security buttons and loops on each of the inner pouch leg openings to ensure that your baby cannot slip through the leg holes.

For infants weighing less than 3,5 kg (8lbs.), fasten the security loops and buttons.

Open the security buttons after your baby weighs 3,5 kg (8lbs.).

Position 1: "Face-in"

(0 - 24 months)

1. Adjust the height of the inner pouch according to the size of your baby (see "how to use inner pouch snaps").
2. Put your arms through the shoulder straps. Grasp the shoulder strap behind your head and snap the buckle 1. Adjust the height of the comfort strap by sliding it along the shoulder straps. Fasten the waist belt and adjust to fit snugly. Adjust shoulder straps so the carrier fits high on your chest. Adjust the comfort strap for a snug fit.

3. Unzip the inner pouch and, holding your baby facing in, gently pull baby's legs through the leg openings of the inner pouch 2. Fasten buckle and then zip the inner pouch closed.

4. Close the buckle on the outer pouch collar. Then adjust the inner pouch waist strap so the inner pouch fits snugly around your baby's waist. Zip outer pouch and adjust collar strap to cradle your baby's head 3. The strap should be fastened so that it supports your baby's head just above its neck. If your baby is small and the Weego outer pouch appears too big, fold the collar over to support the baby's head.

i If your baby slumps down in the outer pouch once asleep or relaxed, the inner pouch is not tight enough. Tighten sufficiently with the inner pouch waist straps until your baby remains in the same position throughout carrying.

i Once your baby's arms and legs are long enough (from about 4 months on) or if your baby feels uncomfortable with the legs in the outer pouch, guide them through the leg and arm openings of the outer pouch 4. If necessary adjust the outer pouch such that the material reaches from hollow of the knee to hollow of the knee (to do this loosen the adult waist strap).

i From about 9 -12 months (at the earliest when your baby can hold the head unassisted for a longer time period): The outer pouch collar should now be closed under your baby's arms (and not above the neck as described in step 4).
