Breeze Through Airport Security in Style

The TSA-compliant Flanabag AirQuart® is the sophisticated answer to the question “What’s the right way to pack lotions, cosmetics, and gels in your carry-on bag?”

Sudbury designer Linda Flanagan wants you to say goodbye to plastic freezer bags in the security line and hello to an airport security bag that’s fresh and fun with features you won’t find in any other travel bag.

The signature Flanabag AirQuart® is one part clutch and one part quart-size see-through zipper pouch that’s exactly what the TSA wants to see in your carry-on. Made with strong, flexible vinyl and trimmed in trendy cotton fabric, the AirQuart has a unique integrated wrist strap that makes it easy to carry. The sturdy interlocking zipper safely secures the approved amount of liquids and gels without sacrificing style.

“It must have been the walk through airport security that got me thinking,” said Flanagan. “Why is there no good looking quart-sized bag for airline travel? I had been designing and sewing purses and wristlets for friends for years, and this seemed like the logical next step. Perfecting the design for the AirQuart took time, but now I can’t imagine how anyone travels by air without one.”

The AirQuart® is the right size and made of the right materials to take the hassle out of going through airport security – and it’s also incredibly easy to use. Your personal items are always in plain sight and the gusseted bottom expands to create lots of space. Use one AirQuart® for your toiletries and makeup and then stash your phone, passport, earbuds, and camera in another. You’ll never have to go digging through your bag for what you need again! Whether you want to touch up your makeup or zone out with some tunes, the integrated wrist strap and wide opening make it easy to grab your gear.

Flanagan’s AirQuart® design has been so enormously popular that she has expanded her product range to include the Makeup Zip Up, a scaled-down see-through bag that’s just the right size for a purse, briefcase, or gym bag; the padded Zip Pouch for those delicate items you’d rather the world not see; and the new, one-of-a-kind iPad SPF*, which protects your tablet PC or e-reader from splashes, dust, drizzle, and sand without sacrificing functionality.

“My whole Flanabags line is designed to be chic and colorful, so your bag reflects your personality,” said Flanagan. “You’ll never have trouble picking your bag out of a crowd – or out of the bottom of your carry-on.”

With your favorite AirQuart® clutch in your purse or luggage, you will never again carry your personal items through airport security in a plain plastic freezer bag. Welcome to the world of stylish, hassle-free air travel!
