

A Gift With Impact

December 03, 2018

Each holiday season we scramble to come up with gift ideas for our family, friends, and coworkers.

But fear not, we have you covered.

If you are familiar with our blog and brand then you know why we sell our eco-friendly cosmetic pouches made by FreeSet. And if you are new to our site, then let us take this time to introduce FreeSet, a company that employs women in Colcotta to help them escape the sex trade and regain control of their lives. At Mali Mali, we hope to spread awareness for pressing environmental and social issues through the help of our dedicated customers.

This holiday season, gift a pouch and product and spread the word on the importance of helping people regain their identity and freedom. Additionally, with each purchase we include a card that explains our story and why we desperately need to protect the environment.

Help us spread our word and continue our work with FreeSet and our partners Cool Earth. From all of us at Mali Mali, thank you for a great year of skincare.

As always, be well, do good.™
