How to wear a Sari Wrap Skirt: Fall Edition

More Inside!

Falling into Fall

Fall is our favorite season to wear sari wrap skirts. For the cold mornings and hot afternoon, they make the perfect piece to throw a layer on and be comfortable all day in! Warm colors with fluffy cardigans and graphic tees make this look perfect.

Mid Day Mania

Wear the skirt a little higher to create a midi skirt length and show off your classic black booties. Knot your t-shirt instead of tucking it in for some added texture and newness. Of course, accessorize and complete the look by putting on a sari fabric scrunchie for a cute touch.

Fall Favorites

In the fall everyone has those days where you just want your hair out of your face. Use a sari scarf as a head wrap for the chunky headband look. Use it as an opportunity to tie different colors from your outfit in, or even just give it a pop of additional pattern!

Scarf Action

When your skirt has an oversized pattern and has a very prominent color like this one, it's an opportunity to add some color and pattern elsewhere. Wearing a solid white sweater and adding a sari scarf is the perfect way to compliment the skirt and also giving yourself another layer!

Back to Black

A black turtleneck is our fall essential. Pair it with basically anything, including any sari wrap skirt. The benefit of wearing a warm turtleneck top is that your skirt can really speak for itself and let the pattern shine. Pair with a scrunchie to balance the color.

90s are Back

Let us tell you, these skirts work for every look! People often associate skirts with ultra feminine styling but we love giving it a darker edge. In 90s fashion. we styled it a bit more grungy with chunky boots, a rock tee, and an oversized cardigan. Don't forget to throw on layered necklaces to complete the look!

Flower Power

Oh florals, we will always love you most. Don't be afraid to mix browns and black. The rule that you can't is outdated and there's no time for that! Make a neutral outfit pop with a sari wrap skirts. Even a neutral colored skirt gives so much pattern and life to any outfit. Top it off with a beaded DGY necklace of course.

Denim Days

We love that some of the sari wrap skirts have a bit of shine. Shine is a perfect way to dress up your favorite denim shirt and wear it for any time of day. We love mixing the warm tones with the skirt, boots, and accessories with the cool color of indigo.
