Let's redefine what journalling is

Step into the Creative Journalling Challenge—a celebration of artistic expression and mindfulness. This year, we're inviting all artists to redefine what a journal means. From ceramicists, glassworkers, woodworkers, metalworkers, designers, paper and textile artists to photographers, sculptors, print and mixed media makers, delve into our community's wealth of knowledge and share your creations online!

Let's embrace materiality and sustainability and think outside the box. What does journalling mean to you? Is it drawing, weaving, pinch pots, or something else? It's your personal journey of self-discovery and creativity. So, join us in carving out space in your routine for creation and let your imagination soar!

What is the Creative Journalling Challenge?

A daily prompt will be sent to your email, to respond to using any materials you like. Take a picture of your work and share it on your Instagram page using our designated hashtag #CDCJOURNALLING24. This way, we can keep up to date with all the different journal entries each day.

Once the challenge concludes, our team will select 20 finalists for consideration by our panel of judges who will choose the winners of each Creative Journalling Challenge prize.

Prizes

$2000 First Prize

$700 Second Prize

$300 Emerging Craftsperson Prize

Judging Criteria

When evaluating journal entries for prizes, judges will consider various factors, including the creative interpretation of prompts, the level of originality demonstrated, and the overall quality of the artwork and artistic skill. Additionally, this year, we're placing emphasis on integrating sustainability principles, such as recycling or the use of degradable materials, during the creative process. Since we won't be accepting any physical journals, entries will be in photograph format only. This allows for the inclusion of ephemeral works that aren't necessarily built to last.
