

After a long, hard think, we arrived at the conclusion that while we enjoy hoarding some of the world's greatest beers all to ourselves, it is only right that we share SOME of the love. Also our cellar is getting too full.

CELLAR RESERVE RARE BOTTLE LIST >

An ever-changing menu of rare and wonderful goodies from the narnia that is our cellar.

[FOR ON PREMISES CONSUMPTION ONLY]

BOON GEUZE BLACK LABEL (1st ED.) $50
7% ABV, BELG., 750ml

Beer Wank: A ridiculously dry lambic selection boasting a nearly 100% fermentation degree. A part of one of the components of this beer was also used in the Mikkeller's 'Bone Dry', a collaboration with Boon

MOONDOG JUMPING THE SHARK $55
18.4% ABV, VIC, (2015) 500ml

Beer Wank: "Rye whisky barrel aged imperial rye stout... with rye." This is worth drinking for its humour alone, not to mention the gentle 18.4% abv. This dragon is best slayed with friends.

DESCHUTES THE ABYSS $85
11% ABV, USA, (2014) 650ml

Beer Wank: Imperial Stout brewed with licorice and molasses; 68 IBUs and 6% Bourbon Barrel aged, 11% oak aged and 11% wine barrel aged. Deep and complex; all sorts of shit going on here.

WESTVLETEREN 12 $75
10.2% ABV, BELG., 330ml

Beer Wank: From the smallest of the Trappist breweries, this Quad is particularly hard to come by... but you probably already know that.

TWO METRE TALL CLEANSING ALE $22
4.9% ABV, TASMANIA, (BOTTLED FEB 2015) 330ml

Beer Wank: Beers from Two Metre Tall have the tendency to change and develop drastically over time, and this particular beer has been doing so in our cellar for two years now.

ST BERNARDUS ABT 12 (OAK AGED) $90
11% ABV, BELG., 750ml

Beer Wank: This beer hardly needs an introduction. One of the world's most sought after quads, aged in calvados barrels. What more do you want?

BROOKLYN BREWERY K IS FOR KRIEK $75
10.1% ABV, USA, (BQE Q1 2015, BLEND #5) 750ml

Beer Wank: "Ale brewed with honey, dark candi syrup and orange peel aged in bourbon barrels on whole cherries." It sounds silly, but it's actually outright tasty. And also silly. Double points.

SIERRA NEVADA OVILA ABBEY QUAD $25
10.2% ABV, USA, 375ml

Beer Wank: An (unofficial) Abbey style quad, brewed in collaboration with the monks of New Clairvaux, using sugar plums grown on the abbey grounds. A rich brew perfect for the coldest of Melbourne's winter days.

SIERRA NEVADA NARWHAL (BA) $75
12.9% ABV, USA (2014) 750ml

Beer Wank: A bourbon barrel-aged Imperial Stout at 62 IBUs featuring Challenger bittering hops and a holy jeezuz of a malt profile

BOATROCKER ADVENTUS $60
10.2% ABV, VIC, 750ml

Beer Wank: Boatrockers first ever barrel room release; a Belgian style ale aged in Chardonnay barrels with brettanomyces bruxellensis, since then aging away in our fabled cellar.

BOATROCKER RAMJET $32
11.4% ABV, VIC, (2015) 330ml

Beer Wank: Australia's most notorious Starward barrel aged imperial stout hardly needs wanking on about, let alone an introduction. You know exactly what this is, and you know you want it. Bonus points for being a 2015 back vintage.

CANTILLON ROSÉ DE GAMBRINUS $65
5% ABV, BELG., 750ml

Beer Wank: A raspberry Lambic made in the same style as a Kriek, sporting a name which pays homage to the celebrated legendary heroic figure of brewing, Gambrinus.

UNIBROUE LA FIN DU MONDE $25
9% ABV, QB, 330ml

Beer Wank: A cult favourite Belgian style Tripel, which has been aging away for two years in our cellar. Bonus.

TILQIUN/RULLES STOUT RULLQUIN $60
7% ABV, BELG., 750ml

Beer Wank: A mixed fermentation using 7/8 Rulles Brune and 1/8 blend of 1 year old lambics, aged on oak for 8 months, refermented in bottle for 6 months.

Some of the beers on this list have been carefully house aged (read: "forgotten about") for up to 2 years, while others are rarities that we wanted to save for something special. These selections are only available in extremely limited quantities, so get in quick. Additionally, these beers are strictly for on premises consumption, which unfortunately means NO CHEEKY TAKEAWAYS. (THAT MEANS YOU, ROB.)
