

SMART Pro™

The Smart Choice

NEW ECONOMIC PRICING Software Kits and UTP Bridge

Advanced Diagnostics, the worldwide leader in key programming software, is pleased to announce new economic options for purchasing software and participating in an Unlimited Token Plan. These new options provide further flexibility in managing the way users operate the Smart Pro to maximize profits and minimize operating costs. Take advantage now as these options are only available through June 30, 2020!

Software Kits

Owning software for the Smart Pro just got easier with the introduction of software kits. Software Kits will be offered for popular vehicle manufacturers that allow customers to own all worldwide software modules for a specific manufacturer for one flat fee. If the user already owns some of the modules within a software kit, the end user will be discounted $90 off the MSRP kit price for each software module already owned.

UTP Bridge

Already own software on your Smart Pro and want access to what is missing on the Smart Pro along with access to all the latest software releases? The new UTP Bridge provides a discounted price for the Annual Unlimited Token Plan (UTP) based on the number of software modules already owned. The more software that is owned, the larger the discount for the Annual UTP.

Further details and examples of use for Software Kits and UTP Bridge are enclosed.

Software Kits

UTP Bridge

Advanced Diagnostics has long been known for being first to market with many of its software releases. We also realize keeping up to date with software can be a daunting task. As a result, Advanced Diagnostics is introducing a method of gaining 100% access to all software via the Annual UTP Subscription. The new UTP Bridge provides a discounted price for the Annual UTP subscription based on the amount of software already owned. Simply identify which UTP Bridge Level the Smart Pro falls into based on software owned to see the discounted price for the Annual UTP. Place the order for the Annual UTP (TT1070XXXX) and reference the UTP Bridge Level that applies to receive the discounted price.

Each subsequent year the UTP Bridge Price increases to accommodate additional new software releases.
