Cleansing the Eyeliner

It's so important to cleanse the entire eye area super good before every eyeliner procedure with an appropriate cleanser. A good pre-cleanse promotes a clean procedure and helps prevent any unwanted or unexpected complications.

It's also super important to be cleansing with the right cleanser. A pre and post eyeliner cleanser should be antimicrobial and antifungal. Saline, Sterile Eyewash or Collyrium are not so they are not the best choice. They are fantastic as a rinse but not a cleanser.

If you do not currently have a good cleanser for you eyeliner procedures...we got one for you. The Girlz Ink Eyeliner Cleanse is both antifungal and antimicrobial. It is pH balanced for the eye and is made without any chemicals. It's one of the very first products I ever developed and it's pretty amazing.

It's always best to have your clients come in with clean eyes...no makeup as that makes our job easier but they often do not. If they come in with make up or any residue I use Dermalogica Eye Makeup Remover first...then the Eyeliner Pre & Post Cleanse.

Happy Tattooing Everybody!
