

BRAESIDE CROWN COLA

Bourbon Barrel Aged Scotch Ale • 8.5% ABV • 375ml
Can Release: March 2019

STORY

Back in early 2016 we created a beer that reminded us of a bourbon and coke. It was a scotch ale aged in Heaven Hill bourbon barrels. We're pretty sure this was the first beer in Australia to have used a different brand's logo to suit the beer... And that brand was Royal Crown Cola... Remember "Me & my RC"? Probably not, as it hasn't been around since the 70s! So we thought it was ripe for the picking, but instead of RC we changed it to BC, Braeside Crown Cola—and we put it in a can!

TASTING NOTES

Aromas of coconut, vanilla and bourbon, with cola highlights. On the palate, a luscious full body, with malt complexity, bourbon, coconut and cola notes.

FOOD PAIRING

Excellent as a dessert beer paired with Thai Coconut Jelly.

CELLARING POTENTIAL

Well, this is a funny one, as we don't advocate storing canned products for longer than a year due to the BPA lining of cans. But... this is a BA beer, which you might like to cellar. But, as with all good bourbon and coke's, drink straight from the can and say what the heck!
