

Stand up Desk Workstation

RT900

Description

This sit-stand workstation transforms your current desk or tabletop into an ergonomic workspace, easily and cost-effectively. The height-adjustable standing desk converter sits on your desk to function just like a standing desk, providing a large work surface that holds up to two 24" monitors (or a single monitor u can use us the works surface to keep your documents, tablet, laptop, phones, etc). Move it up or down with one smooth motion, to work in greater comfort and remain productive without disrupting your work while switching from a seated to standing position.

The sit-stand workstation is conveniently sized for easy integration into your workspace. It's large enough (900mm wide) to hold two upto 24" monitors, yet small enough to fit on most desks or other surfaces.

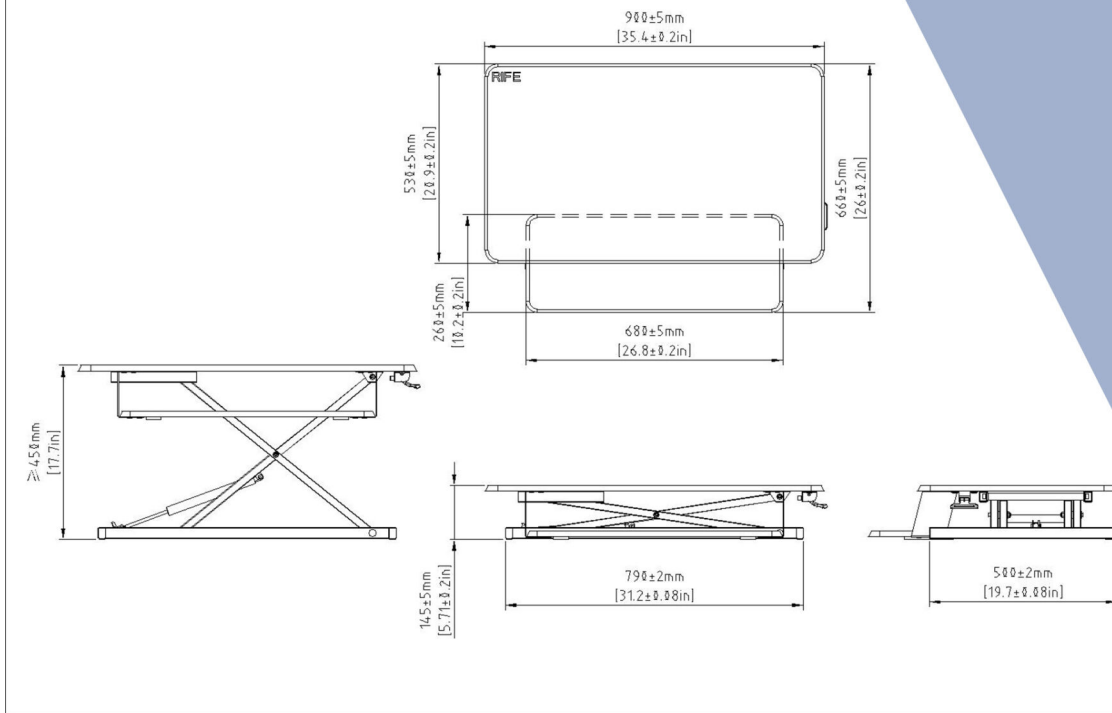

Go from sitting to standing in one easy smooth motion. Spring lift mechanism assists with the lifting motion, even with your computer and monitor on it.

From: 5.7" to 17.7"

Can help you get rid of bad posture, reduce back pain, and strengthen your core. Using your adjustable computer stand for all-day support and maintaining good posture can add to the strength of your core and get rid of unnecessary aches and pains.
