

Winter Gluten-free Snacks Roundup: Feb 2017

Afternoons at Nima HQ typically bring a 3 o'clock snack attack, and since we try to keep our kitchen as gluten-free as possible for our team members with food intolerances, we're always on the hunt for new gluten-free snacks. We found and tested some new gluten-free snacks this winter, and here are a few of our favorites.

Rule Breaker Gluten-Free Snacks

For those with a sweet tooth, Rule Breaker treats will be sure to satisfy. Their blondies and brownies are certified gluten-free, but note that they do not use purity protocol oats. The sample we tested was gluten-free. These are also free from the top 8 allergens and vegan, so they'll please a number of special diets!
