TROPHY

ARABIAN NIGHTS BAG
available at preciouslyparis.com

If you have ever imagined what the convergence of contemporary art and haute couture would look like, it might be something like the über luxurious handbags from Preciously Paris. Founder Carol Tessier had a passion for designing her own bespoke jeans with an evening wear twist - think intricate embroidery inspired by the work of French couturiers, further accented with semi-precious stones. Her unique pieces garnered attention and soon she began taking on clients, which included royalty, artists and the savvy fashion crowd. The Paris-based designer recently expanded her range to include a collection of handbags that are screen-printed à la Andy Warhol, with other cheeky elements and jeweled embellishments. As true luxury should be, the amount of each style is limited, there are only 38 bags created of each design.
