

PORT-A-FIELD

LARGE FIELD INSTALLATION INSTRUCTIONS

Note: The field perimeter line is on two separate reels and the interior lines are included on a third reel. The perimeter line should be setup first followed by the interior lines. The entire field will be retrieved in reverse order for storage (interior lines first and then the perimeter line).

Step 1: Locate a starting point on your playing area for a corner of your field. Insert an anchor through the ring into the ground.

Step 2: Both field ends are labeled to note whether you are starting with a long sideline or a shorter end line. Walk to the proper first corner, unreeling the field perimeter along the way.

Step 3: Pull tight, slightly stretching the material, and anchor the first corner ring to the ground. Repeat this process at the second corner. With your second perimeter reel, continue to complete the perimeter.

Step 4: Join the two ends by clipping the clip on the ring you began with. You may need to force closure by relocating the first or last anchor, pulling in both directions at the same time.

Step 5: To finish, relocate any other corner anchors as needed, pulling in both directions at the same time. Then fully insert the anchors into the ground, leaving nothing exposed.

Step 6: Wickets are optional for the perimeter and should only be applied as needed. The field lines are designed to move upon contact, and easily go back into position.

Step 7: Apply interior lines (midfield lines, goal lines, etc.) as labeled, anchoring them across the perimeter lines on the outside of the playing area.

Step 8: Apply wickets every 10 ft (3 steps) on the interior lines (goal lines) to ensure the lines within the field of play are tightly snug to the ground.

Place a wicket at the lowest point of any dip or low spot on the field, then usually not more than every 30 ft or 10 steps around the perimeter.

To apply, straddle the perimeter line with a wicket and fully insert into the ground to snug the line to the playing surface.
