

NOW HIRING | RESIDENT DANCE TEACHING ARTISTS
SPECIALTY AREA DESIRED | BALLET, HIP HOP, OR TAP

Location: Westminster, Maryland (20 miles NW of Baltimore, 25 miles NE of Frederick, 25 miles N of Columbia)

Salary: Competitive & Negotiable Hourly Rates

Employment Type: W-2 part-time

Positions Available: August 29, 2016 OR Immediately

Hours Available: Evenings and Weekends, No min/No max

Project C Studios is seeking talented, committed, passionate, and experienced Dance Teaching Artists to join its Resident Faculty for the 2016-17 dance season. Artists specifically desired in the specialty areas of Ballet, Hip Hop, and/or Tap. Project C Studios' dance season runs August 29, 2016 through June 18, 2017 with opportunities available for weekly classes, workshops, student mentorship programs, student company direction, choreographic development, performance, and personal career development. Project C Studios serves over 300 students annually, with programs serving recreational and professional track dancers, ages 3 through adult. For more information about Project C Studios, please visit www.ProjectCStudios.com

RESIDENT TEACHING ARTIST JOB DUTIES, including but not limited to:

- Teach educational and challenging classes within specified discipline(s) with obtainable goals for groups and individuals.
- Share personal philosophy, perspective, experience, and expertise through class material and lessons.
- Create, document, and implement age and contextually appropriate scaffolded dance and dance related lesson plans in accordance with company provided curriculum and syllabus structure.
- Record and maintain attendance record.
- Maintain a safe and supportive learning environment.
- Adapt teaching methods to meet student needs.
- Monitor and document student progress and performance.
- Complete student level recommendations at the end of each dance season.
- Choreograph and rehearse class dances for performance.
- Choreograph and rehearse extra-curricular dances as elected.
- Assist in performance preparations.
- Communicate regularly with Administrative Manager and Director, and in accordance with company policy.
- Act as a mentor and role model to all dance students.
- Model, uphold, and enforce all company policies.
- Attend quarterly faculty meetings (paid).
- Attend once annual company teacher training workshop.
- Complete required forms.
- Other responsibilities as needed.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Pursuit or completion of Bachelor's Degree in Dance/Dance Education or equivalent professional training
- Professional demeanor
- Substantial experience in: Dance and Dance Education, Professional Dance Performance, Leading and directing groups, Choreography, Motivating others, Advanced level communication skills, Organization, Customer service/Public relations, Reporting Skills, Curriculum and Syllabus development
- Prompt, self-directed and takes initiative
- Innovative and proactive

Position reports directly to Project C Studios' Director, Jen Graham. Position will include a contract for the 2016-17 dance season with the possibility to continue employment for subsequent seasons. Competitive wages. Project C Studios is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

TO APPLY: Please submit resume, cover letter, three professional references, and work sample (video of applicant teaching/performing/choreographic work and/or sample lesson plan) to Jen@ProjectCStudios.com as soon as possible. Please write TEACHING ARTIST POSITION in the subject line.

Project C Studios, founded in 2006 | We believe in providing extraordinary education by every means necessary. We believe in student-centered learning environments guided by bold curiosity and nurtured through collaborative discovery. We believe in process beyond product, mentorship beyond instruction, artistry beyond discipline, and transcending beyond boundaries. We are dancers, artists, educators, students, & collaborators with relentless commitment to both our community and our art.