

Nathan Birch

Born 1978, Lansing, Michigan

At an early age, Birch moved to Edmonton, Alberta and received his BFA from the Alberta College of Art and Design in Calgary. He pursues his artistic goals by painting landscapes of the places he has lived: the Alberta prairies, the Rocky Mountains and the West Coast of British Columbia. Birch presently lives in Campbell River on Vancouver Island, where he paints landscapes in a multi-panel format in order to "create a balanced tug-of-war between the truth of the paintings as objects on the wall and the lie of the paintings as windows through the wall."
