SPRING 2019
CELEBRATING 35 YEARS

July 3, 2018, marked the 35th anniversary of Annieglass, which first opened its doors in a tiny shared-space in Santa Cruz, CA. It has since become a flourishing, nationally recognized and treasured home decor and gifts brand. As an art school graduate in the 1980's with more passion than money, experience, or resources, Annie Morhauser couldn't wait to apply her training in various methods of glassmaking and show the world how exciting the medium of glass can be.

While moonlighting in a glass art gallery, she learned the practical side of business and built a brand focused on promoting American-made, handcrafted glass and sculpture. To date, her pieces can be found in luxury stores across the country in places such as Neiman Marcus and Bloomingdale's, as a part of the permanent collection in the Smithsonian Museum, and her celebrity and cult following continues to grow.
