

TRENDSETTERS

her style

CHRISSY
SAYARE

Dresses classic, with a funky twist

BY GABBY RICHMAN
PHOTO BY CARL SCHULTZ

For Chrissy Sayare, style isn't just an outfit that she puts on every day—it's how she lives her life. Every day she gets up in the morning, dresses to impress, and heads to her store To Be Continued... A Consignment Boutique located at The Shops at Hilton Village.

Sayare is a big believer in investing in key pieces for her wardrobe and dressing right for her body and lifestyle, which is what she strives to do each day. She tends to mix classic staples in her closet with unique and vintage pieces from her travels.

In the summer, you can usually find her in a dress and heels, and in the winter, she mixes it up with leather leggings and classic jackets. But, no matter what season it is, you most likely won't find her in a pair of sweats or casual wear.

Some of Sayare's favorite brands are Dolce & Gabbana, Prada, and Chanel. She does love designers, but she also loves a good bargain. In her spare time, she enjoys doing hot yoga, spending time with her husband, shopping, going out to the city's hottest restaurants, and traveling. Some of her favorite places to travel are Paris, Greece, London and Boston.

What are some of your favorite lunch and dinner spots around town? I love going to the Omni Scottsdale Resort & Spa Montelucia for lunch. It always makes me feel like I am on vacation. For dinner, you can find us at Steak 44, Bianco's Italian Restaurant, and Slanted Rice in Hilton Village. You mentioned you love Chanel. What is the one piece of Chanel in your closet that you can't live without? I am a Chanel lover... my necklaces and pins are so easy to wear with almost anything. They raise any mediocre outfit to fabulous. So, I'd say I can't live without those.