

ADVERTISEMENT

MailOnline

From the Beauty Chef to the founder of Victoria Beckham's favourite candle: Meet the Aussie women making millions from their global style and skincare empires

- March 8 is the celebration of International Women's Day in Australia
- FEMAIL has rounded up some of our country's most successful businesswomen
- Nicole Eckels, owner of Glasshouse Fragrances, sells a candle every two minutes
- The Beauty Chef's Carla Oates, Aceology's Joanne Zhong & LaMav's Tarj Mavi

By MATILDA RUDD FOR DAILY MAIL AUSTRALIA

PUBLISHED: 23:58 EDT, 7 March 2022 | UPDATED: 00:13 EDT, 8 March 2022

Share
Twitter
Pinterest
Facebook
WhatsApp
Email
RSS
40 shares
View comments
4

Australia's millionaire businesswomen are making their mark in the beauty industry both locally and overseas with their 'miracle' ingestible powders, perfumed candles, makeup products and even eco-friendly cleaning products.

On March 8 FEMAIL is celebrating International Women's Day by looking at some of the brands that are revolutionising the wellness space and earning themselves celebrity clientele as a result.

JESSICA BRAGDON FOR KOALA ECO

Koala Eco's brand philosophy is built on the model of refillable homecare solutions.

Jessica Bragdon (pictured)

By offering six best-selling cleaning products in one litre refills they are able to minimise the environmental impact and overall consumption of plastic.

Since the brand's beginning it has been important to Jessica Bragdon to make sure Koala Eco is always maximising every opportunity to operate in an environmentally responsible way.

So in addition to offering refillable cleaning solutions all products are housed in 100 per cent post-consumer recycled and recyclable (RPET) packaging, meaning no new plastic is ever created.

In five short years Koala Eco has been able to stop one million new bottles from entering circulation.

Site Web

Follow @DailyMailFashionFinder

ADVERTISEMENT

Follow Daily Mail
Subscribe Daily Mail
Follow @DailyMail
Follow Daily Mail
Follow @Femail
Follow Daily Mail

FEMAIL TODAY

EXCLUSIVE Bob Saget is smiling and uninjured in haunting last photo as he poses with valet outside his Florida hotel hours before he was found dead in his room

► 'It's not easy mentally, physically, spiritually': Kylie Jenner reveals her post-partum struggle as she gets back to the

