

HOME | APR. 18, 2023

The Best Cleaning Products for Every Room in the House

By Shanna Shipin, a Cut Shop contributor who covers beauty and lifestyle

When it comes to self-care, beauty products get all the attention. But there's something particularly life-affirming about polishing stains off a kitchen countertop the morning after testing out a new (and overly complicated) recipe. What good is glowing skin if you can't see it reflected in the sparkling handle of your toilet handle? Celebs get it. They're the arbiters of self-care simply because they can afford it, so it's no surprise that the pandemic inspired the likes of Drew Barrymore, Kris Jenner, Jessica Alba, and Courteney Cox to get their hands dirty — at least in theory. Remember, you may not be able to afford a mansion, but you can clean your space like you paid someone to do it.

The one that's kind to everyone

Koala Eco Home Cleaning Gift Set

$49

Koala Eco uses cruelty-free, plant-based ingredients (chiefly a slew of essential oils from Australia) in its natural cleaning products. They're all made in the U.S. and safe for pets, babies, and pregnant people.

$49 AT GOOP

$49 AT KOALA ECO