Hardwood floors are a beautiful addition to any home, but keeping them clean can be a challenge.

Finding the right hardwood floor cleaner can be the difference maker that gives your home the shine you've been looking for.

With hardwood floors being so popular with homeowners, many different companies have their own cleaners that they claim stand above the rest.

We've done some digging to find some of the best hardwood floor cleaners on the market today.

As always price and availability of these products may vary based on the time and location of purchase.

How do professionals clean hardwood?

Professionals clean hardwood floors by sweeping, dusting, and dry mopping before adding any cleaning solution.

From there, they will use their solution of choice to thoroughly scrub any remaining dirt, grime, or marks from the floor with a wet mop or other scrubbing apparatus.

What is the best cleaner for hardwood floors?

One of the best cleaners available for hardwood floors is the Koala Eco natural floor cleaner.

This product is made with natural ingredients that are safe for the environment and your wood floors since they come from the environment too.
